HONGKONG, MAY 7TH, 1883.

Warrang on the 27th ultimo on the report od retirement of Sir Thomas Francis WADE, K.C.B., from therpost of British Mimister to the Court of Poling, we expressed the opinion that Sir HARRY SMITH PARKES, K.C.S., G.C.M.G., Her Britannic Mijesty's Representative at Tokio, was "the man of "all others best fitted by character and ex-"porience to take charge of British interests "in China." At the same time we gave utterance to the belief that it was unlikely that Sir HARRY would be removed from Toficer's eminent suitability for the trying and endorsed by Her Majesty's Government, and the unlikely event come to pass, by the appointment of Sir HARRY PARKES to succeed Sir Thomas Wade at Peling. The new British Minister to China was born at Birchill's Hall, Staffordshire, and entered the civil service of the Crown in 1842, being attached to the suite of Sir HENEY Por-TINGER in June of that year. He subsequently acted as interpreter to various Consulates until August, 1854, when he was appointed Consul at Amoy. In Mirch, 1855, Mr. PARKES accompanied So Jour Howersa to Stam as Secretary, and after the conclusion of the Treaty, proceeded to England with that document, returning, with the ratifications in appealed to. January of the following year. From June, 1856 to September, 1858, he acted as Consul at Canton, and he was British Commissioner of the Allied Commission during the occupation of that sale by the Allied forces. In "1859 he was created a Companion of the Bath in recognition of his services. Mr. PARKES was next attached to the Earl of ELGIN'S Special Embassy to China as Seoretary, and while engaged in negotiations under a flag of truce he was taken prisoner at Tungchow and most inhumanly treated by the Chinese. On the conclusion of Lord ELGIN'S Mission in 1861-Mr. PARKES returned to his duties at Canton, but shortly after his services were in request to accompany Sir JAMES HOPE in his expedition up the Yang. taze. In May, 1862, the distinction of Knight Commander of the Bath was conferred upon Mr. PARRES, and he was traordinary, Minister-Plenipotentiary, and. period of eighteen years during which he has represented Her Massarr in Tokio, Sir HARRY PARKES has earned the respectable A proof of the high confidence reposed in his judgment and ability by the British Government, at a time when a series of venomous attacks had been made upon him by an American journalist, was afforded in November. 1881, when the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George was bestowed $10,000 or $15,000. upon him by Her MAJESTY. The lawn tennis match between Lieuts. Bunbury and Allen and Mossys. Douglas Jones and G. S. Coxon, came off on the Unicest Ground ou Saturday afternoon. Much interest was evidoubly taken in the match as there was a very large attendance of the public, including Lady and the Misses Bowen and the Maharajab of Johore. A close contest was expected, and a fine exhibition of skill by both sides, whilst selections for favourities varied. The expectations as to a close match were not fulfilled however, for the two officers of the Baffs won very easily. The first set they won right away, without allowing their opponents to score, the second set went to their credit, while Massrs: Jones and Coxon had only made two games, but the third was a more even contest, and the lesers made four games to their opponents' six. The score was thus three sets to love -6 to 0, 6 to 2,

A collision occurred at Saigon on the 16th April between the steamers Benelder and Atholl. VOLUNTEER RIFLE COMPETITION

The volunteers assembled in good force at the Murray Pier on Saturday afternoon, for shooting practice at Kowloon Range; the officers present were Major Tripp, Captain Francis, and ieuts, McCallum and Moseley. On reaching the range it was found that a very heavy wind was blowing across it from the right, and some of the officers thought that it would be advisable not to compete for the cun that day, as the wind would probably bause but a poor score to be made. It was decided to take the feeling of the men on the matter, however, and they elected to shoot for the prizes at once. The wind. eing fairly steady, did not affect the older hands so much, but at the longer ranges it experience in making allowance for that element. The scores were as follow .-

ult. as follows :- "Information was received vesterday foreneon by Messra. Browns & Co., the Agents for the vessel, that the Carnarvenshire had gone ash re in Singo Bay, about twenty miles to the northward of Oshima. The steamer left Yokohama on the morning of the 18th ult and the accident happened at half-past four o'clock a.m. the following day. All hands have been saved, but the position of the vessel is ox tremely critical; in fast, it is doubtful whether she can be got off. Her rudder and propeller are broken, and she is broadside on to the sea. so that in the event of beavy weather occurring she would inevitably go to pieces, Singo being much exposed. We are informed the H.M.S. Moorhen will leave at ton o'clock thi foregoon for the scene of the accident, with view of rendering any assistance possible undor the circumstances, but it is feared little can be accomplished beyond saving some of the cargo The Carnary inshire, we understand, had no pile on board, and this was particularly unfortunate. as the weather on the coast has been very bad recently. The Nagoya-maru, for example, was detained for sixteen hours on the passage down owing to fog, and the ourrents are extremely mis eading.

this Work stands unrivalled. All the new the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-

To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-

Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000

Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted.

To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion.
